Travel services change official and leisure travel experience

By Jessica Lipari,
USAG Bamberg Public Affairs

BAMBERG, Germany -- Community members walking into the travel office at Warner Barracks may notice a few differences from the last time they visited.

Installation Management Command Europe revised its contract with SatoTravel, a division of Carson Wagonlit Travel, as of Oct. 1 and separated official travel and leisure travel services.

"This change is in-line with U.S. Army travel services offered worldwide," said Karin Stiefler, Transportation Branch Manager. "Offices for official and leisure travel are separated in other locations. Europe was the exception."

So what does this mean for community members here?

"Longer wait times can be expected," Stiefler said.

The same service will be provided but due to the separation there is only one agent that can help customers with leisure travel needs and two agents that can handle only official travel needs, Stiefler added.

Gone are the days where a customer can come in, see an agent and book official travel and then inquire about future leisure travel.

The exception to this is when booking leave travel in conjunction with a Permanent Change of Station move or Temporary Duty

They must see two separate agents.

Federal donation program reaches 50 years of giving

By Sina Kingsbury,
USAG Bamberg Public Affairs

BAMBERG, Germany -- Fifty dollars may pay for lunch for a week but for the homeless and unemployed, fifty dollars provides them with 100 meals.

Fifty dollars may cover a month's utility bill but for victims of domestic violence, fifty dollars provides them with housing for six months.

According to a Combined Federal Campaign-Overseas' factsheet, a pledge to any CFC-O charities adds up to substantial results.

For the past 50 years, the CFC-O provides Soldiers and Department of Defense civilians the opportunity to help communities and organizations in need through its annual charity campaign. The campaign, which runs until Dec. 2, gives DOD employees the opportunity to contribute to more than 2,400 charitable organizations from around the world.

Among the thousands of charitable organizations, DOD employees here are able to contribute to Warner Barracks' community.

By choosing "FSYP" on a pledge card, funds are returned to Warner Barracks to be used for Family Support and Youth Programs.

During last year's campaign, U.S. Army in Europe Soldiers and DOD civilians contributed about $2.2 million, with more than $91,000 designated for Family Support and Youth Programs.

This year, there are two electronic options for submitting donations, or e-Giving:

Junior Barons lose in last second thriller to Knights

By Douglas DeMaio,
USAG Bamberg Public Affairs

BAMBERG, Germany -- The situation was fitting that the Installation Management Command Europe eastern championship game came down to the last play Saturday here.

A hard fought game by Bamberg's Child Youth School Services football team, the Junior Barons, against the Grafenwoehr Knights ended in a 25-20 loss after a 50-plus-yard touchdown reception by Grafenwoehr's Isaiah Dincol in the final 6 seconds of the game.

Douglas DeMaio

Bamberg Junior Barons quarterback Keanu Eberle eludes a Knights defender during the Installation Management Command Europe eastern championship game Saturday.

Grafenwoehr and Bamberg slugged it out like one would imagine George Foreman and Muhammad Ali battling it out in the classic thriller.

Grafenwoehr jumped out to an early 7-0 lead in the beginning of the game, but the Junior Barons responded with a touchdown that pulled the Junior Barons to within 1 point of the Knights after a missed point after touchdown.

Both the teams' played solid defense in the first half and the score remained 7-6 at halftime.

Bamberg came out in the second half poised to win. The Junior Barons' Desmond Daniel snuck in a 1-yard touchdown to take a 13-7 lead. After an unconstructive possession on offense, Grafenwoehr's Dincol picked up a Barons' fumble and returned it for a touchdown to tie the game 13-13.

The Junior Barons didn't let the fumble discourage them. Bamberg's Eric Worstell rumbled down the field for a 20-yard touchdown to give the Barons a 20-13 lead.

Grafenwoehr wasn't deterred either as Jermaine Hernandez brought the Knights to within a point of Bamberg's lead, but Dincol dropped a pass for the 2-point conversion in the end zone.

The score was 20-19 going into the last few minutes; that is when things got interesting. In the last minute of the game, Bamberg had an opportunity to run out the clock.

On a third and short, Bamberg appeared to pick up a first down to run out the clock with 12 seconds remaining on the clock, but the referee called a penalty that nullified the first down.

Bamberg turned the ball over on downs with 6 seconds remaining in the game.

Dincol made up for the 2-point conversion he dropped on the previous possession; he got behind the Junior Barons' defense and caught the touchdown reception that extended the Knights IMCOM-E championship hopes.

Obama calls on nation to honor military families, caregivers

By Elaine Sanchez,
American Forces Press Service

WASHINGTON -- Calling on the nation to celebrate military Families' service and sacrifice, President Barack Obama today signed proclamations designating November as Military Family Month and National Family Caregivers Month.

"With every step we take on American soil, we tread on ground made safer for us through the invaluable sacrifices of our service members and their Families," the president said in his Military Family Month proclamation.

This month is devoted to celebrating military families' exceptional service, strength and sacrifice, he said. Their commitment to the nation, he added, "goes above and beyond the call of duty."

"Just as our troops embody the courage and character that make America's military the finest in the world," Obama said, "their family members embody the resilience and generosity that make our communities strong."

Families are weathering deployments and long separations while serving with heroism in their homes and neighborhoods, the president noted. Military spouses hold down home fronts, children step up to take on additional responsibilities and parents and grandparents offer their quiet support as they wait for their loved one's safe return.

"To these Families, and to those whose service members who never come home, we bear a debt that can never be fully repaid," the president said.

Obama cited the Joining Forces campaign as "One of our nation's greatest responsibilities is to ensure our veterans, their Families and their caregivers receive lasting and comprehensive support."

- Barack Obama

a way the nation can express its gratitude to troops and their Families. First Lady Michelle Obama and Dr. Jill Biden, wife of Vice President Joe Biden, launched the campaign earlier this year to call on all Americans to support and honor service members, veterans and their Families. This support, he added, should continue not just while the nation is at war, but during every stage of service members' lives.

Obama said his administration is committed to improving military Families' lives by enhancing learning opportunities for military children, aiding military spouses in their quest to advance their careers and education and improving mental health counseling.

"Our service members swore an oath to protect and defend, and with each step we take on this land we cherish, we remember our steadfast promise to protect the well-being of the family members they hold dear," he said. "Every act of kindness we can offer helps cultivate a culture of support for our military Families, and I encourage each American to make a difference in the lives of these patriots."

Obama called on Americans to honor military Families throughout the month, whether through personal actions or public service. In that way, he said, the nation can honor these Families "for the tremendous contributions they make in support of our service members and our nation."

The president also urged Americans to celebrate and honor caregivers in his National Family Caregivers Month proclamation.

"Across our country, millions of family members, neighbors, and friends provide care and support for their loved ones during times of need," Obama said. "With profound compassion and selflessness, these caregivers sustain American men, women and children at their most vulnerable moments, and through their devoted acts, they exemplify the best of the American spirit."

As Obama cited the contributions of all caregivers, he noted the importance of sustaining military caregiver support. "One of our nation's greatest responsibilities," he said, "is to ensure our veterans, their families, and their caregivers receive lasting and comprehensive support."

Obama noted that he signed the Caregivers and Veterans Omnibus Health Services Act last year, which extends additional assistance to family members who care for severely wounded veterans from Iraq and Afghanistan.

"Our military caregivers exemplify the heroism found not only on the fields of battle, but also in the hearts of those who tend to our wounded warriors when they come home," he said.

This month offers a time to honor the "tireless compassion" of all family caregivers, Obama said. "This month and throughout the year, let the quiet perseverance of our family caregivers remind us of the decency and kindness to which we can all aspire."

School-aged children visit local sewage treatment center

By Sina Kingsbury,
USAG Bamberg Public Affairs

BAMBERG, Germany -- Sewage treatment facility brought tears to the eyes of some children Oct. 27 during a tour of its facilities.

It was not inspiration, but the foul smell of waste that moistened the eyes of its guests.

In light of Energy Awareness Month, Environment Division Management's Isbelle Fahimi along with nineteen elementary students from Warner Barracks' School Age Center toured Kläranlage Bamberg, the city's sewage treatment facility.

Sina Kingsbury
Students from School Age Center learn about the different stages of cleaning sewage water during a visit to the city of Bamberg's sewage treatment plant Oct. 27.

"I think it is important for children to see that the water they use is not just 'gone' when they use it," said Fahimi.

During the hour tour, the students were able to see each stage in the water purification process.

"(The students) learned how dirty and smelly the wastewater is and how hard it is to clean it," Fahimi said.

The conservation of water is a priority issue for Warner Barracks' Environmental Division, which focuses on other issues like recycling.

Kläranlage Bamberg generates its own energy as it cleans the water from the Renitz River.

The visit provided students the opportunity to see how Bamberg's water is treated and placed back into the environment.

"Our hope is that the children use water more carefully and maybe even tell their parents about it," she said.

assignment, she said. The official travel agent can then assist in booking travel requirements for the customer.

At the travel office, there are now two separate sign in sheets for official and leisure travel. Official travel will be handled based on priority of travel dates and if they are emergency leave orders, leisure travel will be handled on a first come first serve basis.

Visually there are only minor changes to the office; a divider has been placed between leisure and official travel as well as a signage.

Hours have changed for leisure travel booking due to only one agent being available at Warner Barracks.

They are open from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays. On Tuesdays, they are open from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Official travel hours remain 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday.

Community members can also use the following methods to book leisure travel through SatoTravel instead of waiting to speak with the agent at the office, they are as follows:
